—and very good cause for it. She does her washing and cleaning without Pearline; and her work is like her face—just twice as long as it ought to be.

That's not the worst of it, either. Her work isn't as well done.

It hurts. Tires her out, and hurts whatever she washes with the rub, rub, rub that wears and tears. Pretty hard, isn't it? Millions of women think so. They prefer to save time, labor, clothes, and money by washing with Pearline.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, this is as good as—or the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends $1 JAMES PYLE, New York

MARCUS LITTLEFIELD, Rheumatism of the Joints AND

INHERITED HUMOR OF BLOOD

Banished by Skoda's,

AFTER PHYSICIANS HAD PRONONCED

THE INCURABLE!

MARCUS LITTLEFIELD LIVES AT WEST WINTERPORT, ME. A FARMER BY OCCUPATION, HE ENJOYS THE RESPECT OF ALL WHO KNOW HIM. IN CONVERSATION WITH A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE SKODA DISCOVERY, HE IS NOT LONG SINCE HE RELATED THE FOLLOWING STORY:

"Ever since I was born, I have been troubled at times, more or less, with a rheumatic condition of the joints. For fifteen years it has been on the increase, I have been gradually failing in health, and for three years past it has troubled me terribly, so badly, that all the way I could get any rest at night, was to halve in a strong camphor oil bath, and this only relieved me for a few hours. In addition to this, eight months ago, I suffered from a severe attack of rheumatism in my right shoulder, which, though it did not last, drew out my shoulder joint, so much so that BETTER I did not have my clothes off. Physicians said I could never get well. I was unable to do any work, and was a great burden. I consulted with several physicians, including specialists in diseases of the heart, and also with various osteopathologists, our learned practitioners, but received no benefit whatever. I had given up all hope, and my friends thought I could live but a few months. I began the use of SKODA'S DISCOVERY and TABLETS according to directions, and also used SKODA'S OINTMENT externally.

"After a few weeks, there was a visible change in appearance. My skin that was literally covered with pimples and blisters began to clear up. My appetite increased, loss of pain in my shoulders, and I gained rapidly. I have now lost less than two ounces of these REMEDIES, and my rheumatism has disappeared. I am now able to work, there THAN were drawn out of place and which the Doctors said could never be got back again are as good as new and in perfect position. My skin is free from blisters and pimples. I have gained weight, especially in the muscles, and can go into the woods at pleasure, and work hard, and do not feel tired, as I did before. I could never do better for all my life, and am still in work all the time. My friends are amazed at the results, and not more so than myself. They consider it almost神奇."

PITTSFIELD NEWS

New Houses Going Up—Serious Accidents and Other Matters.

Our correspondent writes: Two new double tenement houses will be erected at once by the corporation at the new mill.

David O. Browning cut his left hand severely with an axe Tuesday forenoon. Six stitches were required to close the wound.

The two literary societies of the Maine Central Institute united in giving a very interesting public meeting Tuesday evening.

The Pittsfield Democrats celebrated Saturday evening. Special trains brought in crowds of people. Surrounding towns sent in delegations of torch bearers. The procession was quite long. The fireworks were pretty and many residences were illuminated. A free lunch was served after the march.

Mrs. Lee, her two children, and Miss Maud Spaulding, while out riding Saturday evening, were run into by another team and thrown out. The horse ran away and smashed the carriage to pieces, but fortunately, no one was seriously injured.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1892.

Democrat and the Senate.

Immediately after the election the Democrats were rejoicing over what they proclaimed to be the complete downfall of Republican protection in general and the McKinley bill in particular. During the campaign they could not find language sufficiently strong to express their hatred for the system, which was declared to be unconstitutional and worse than robbery in taxing the people for the benefit of manufacturers. Now, however, a change has come over the spirit of their dreams. For a time everything was forgotten while the Democrats were engaged in celebrating their victory, but now the business end of the situation presents itself and our friends, the enemy, are not one half as happy as they were right after the election.

Indeed the attitude of the party is an interesting object lesson for the people. If all that was said in denunciation of the tariff had been true, there would be no hesitation on the part of the Democrats to-day. The plain fact is that they know that their entire campaign was one of misrepresentation and the question that is now causing the leaders so much uneasiness is to determine just how to avoid the very thing they promised to do, and at the same time steer clear of the criticism that would follow a failure to make good their pledges.

The Democratic desire to be relieved of the full measure of responsibility, the very thing they pretended to be so anxious to secure in order to advance the interests of the people is shown in a recent interview with Senator Pugh, of Alabama. There is now some question about the Democrats having votes enough of their own to organize that body, whereupon Mr. Pugh declares that so far as he is concerned he shall decline to enter into any combination with the representatives of the People's party to organize the Senate.

If they really wanted to carry out their tariff policy the Democrats would naturally be eager to control the Senate, but if it is organized by the Republic would in a measure afford them some sort of an excuse to dodge their pledges. It is to be hoped that this means of a cowardly retreat will not be open to them. They have denounced Republican legislation on the tariff question, now we want to see them assume just responsibility and show the country just what it is they have to offer as a substitute.

Do the People Like to Disfranchise Themselves?

The Courier calls our attention to an alleged interview with Governor-elect Cleaves in the Boston Journal, in which he is made to say that the new election machinery in this state gave satisfaction. We have no knowledge as to the accuracy of this interview, but if it is correct it does not affect our views in the least. We have not as yet learned the details of the errors made under the new system in this state, but in a general way understand that there were some eight or ten thousand voters who disfranchised themselves so far as the entire ticket was concerned, with the exception of the candidate for Governor, by marking the head of the ticket instead of placing the cross in the square opposite the party name. The question, therefore, is not one of individual satisfaction, but whether the people at large are satisfied with a system that makes it so easy for them to disfranchise themselves with the exception of one candidate when they go to the polls intending to vote a straight ticket. We do not believe that they are satisfied with it, and that belief is strengthened every day by views received from all sections of the state endorsing the course of this writer.

After the first election, when this phase of the law was criticized, the advocates of the ballot declared that our system was not the true Australian system, and that the coming session of the Legislature should amend the law to make it conform to the law in Massachusetts, where they have the system in the highest state of perfection. Since that time they have had an election in Massachusetts and the result was not such as to warrant any great degree of blame on the part of the Legislature in adopting that system for this state. Indeed, some of the very advocates of the change are now meeting the critics of the Massachusetts system with the remark that it does not apply to Maine, as our system is much less complicated.

The fact is that the trial of the Australian ballot law has not proved a success and its friends are hard pushed for an argument in its favor. Out in California it has led to legal complications, in Ohio it defeated a Republican elector in New York it proved what one of the Democratic workers called a regular "chicken pie" for the boys who were manipulating the voters, in Massachusetts it defeated the Republican candidate for Governor, and in Maine it disfranchised thousands of voters besides keeping many from the polls altogether. The record is not an inspiring one.

Insane Hospital.

Among the important matters to come before the Legislature at the next session will be the question of providing for the insane hospital for Eastern Maine. The pressing necessity for such an institution is well understood. The matter was carefully investigated by a previous Legislature and money appropriated for the purchase of a location and the preparation of plans. This work was done in a satisfactory manner, but the Legislature two years ago failed to make the necessary appropriation for the erection of the building. It now remains for the coming Legislature to make provision for this most important and necessary institution. The hospital at Augusta is already overcrowded and every member of the Legislature should realize the need of furnishing relief at the earliest possible day.

Did Not Prevent Fraud.

The secret or Australian ballot system did not prevent Democratic frauds in New York city in the recent election. It was

ONE FAILURE

Led to Another Private Bank Closed

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 30. The Stone City Bank, a private institution, suspended payment on account of the failure of the stockholders of the Enterprise Mining Co., one of the departments of the stone fence industry. The bank is operated by W. H. Fish & Sons, and was brought to a standstill by the Enterprise Mining Co. The trouble began with the Enterprise failing to meet its depositors' money and a Miller's $16,000.Fish Brothers, sons of Henry Fish, with F.
and W. H. were proprietors of the Enterprise Company. Mrs. Miller is the aunt of the Fish brothers who are also related to Mrs. John A. Logan. It is estimated nothing less than $60,000 will settle the matter. The failure of the Enterprise Company, was due, it is announced to full trade.The bank's affairs are so involved that it takes considerable time to unravel them. A larger part of the bank's assets are invested in the mill business and business houses of Joliet kept their stocks in great abundance to the greatest sufferers will be
men. A large number of labor ers entrusted it with savings. The out of the broken bank was Henry Fish, his three sons, Charles M., and George Fish, conducted the affairs of the institution.Mr. Fish had the reputation of being one of the ablest financiers of the city. He was rated at $60,000 and his status much more. Never a rumor reflecting the solvency of either bank had circulate up to night. It is believed the bank's condition is not so bad that its depositors range from $8,000 to$10,000. One thought the mill will resume operations between 400 and 500 people.GUILTY OF PERJURY
